Bigger-Size - penis size, erection and male expectations

The length and thickness of the penis, a firm erection and satisfaction with intercourse may be important for men's self-esteem. Dissatisfaction with one's own experiences can be a source of comparisons and complexes. For many men, the ability to freely experience intimate moments is important.
Bigger-Size is a dietary supplement for adult men interested in issues related to the appearance of the penis, erection and sexual sensations. The recipe combines five plant extracts with L-arginine. The package contains 60 capsules.

What is important to you during a close-up session?

Bigger-Size capsules are intended for adult men who attach importance to their erotic life. Personal expectations may include:
• satisfaction with the length and circumference of the penis,
• certain erection during intercourse,
• intense sensations associated with penetration,
• appropriately long intimate moments,
• final at the expected moment,
• desire for more intercourse,
• sense of attractiveness and freedom,
• partner's pleasure.
Size, erection and duration of intercourse are separate issues. They do not have to have the same meaning for every man to remain an important part of his expectations.

Length, circumference and self-confidence

The appearance of the penis may influence how a man perceives his own body during intimacy. Expectations sometimes concern length, other times thickness or appearance when erect. When dissatisfaction arises, it is difficult to put aside comparisons and focus solely on pleasure.
Bigger-Size is a supplement for adult men who care about these issues. Your own satisfaction, sensations during penetration and sense of freedom are personal; they don't come down to one perfect size.
